

Everett Ferguson received his B.A. and M.A. from Abilene Christian University and his S.T.B. (Bachelor of Sacred Theology) and Ph.D. from Harvard University. He taught Bible, church history and Greek classes at Abilene Christian University from 1962 until his retirement in 1998.

Ferguson edited the Encyclopedia of Early Christianity and the nineteen-volume Living Word Commentary on the New Testament. He has authored numerous books, including Backgrounds of Early Christianity; Early Christians Speak, volumes 1 & 2; Church History: From Christ to Pre-Reformation; Baptism in the Early Church; and The Church of Christ: A Biblical Ecclesiology for Today.

He and his wife, Nancy, who passed away July 16, 2019, were married for sixty-three years. His family includes three children and six grandchildren. Ferguson served as an elder of the Hillcrest Church of Christ in Abilene, Texas, for many years.